Adverbs for Adjectives
Using the Same Word!
("ly-ing" an adjective!)

Adverbs are usually "-ly" words. (Like: slowly and quickly and quietly) And they usually modify verbs (Modify means to "slightly change" or make better in this case). But, some adverbs can be used to modify adjectives too. With this craft the author uses the same word again.

The first word is the adverb, so it has an "-ly". The second word, immediately after, is the adjective. Examples: "seriously serious", "superbly superb", "diligently diligent", "wonderfully wonderful"

Dar Hosta does it again and again in her beautifully beautiful picture book, I Love the Night.

"It is so excellently excellent…"
"It was a perfectly perfect time for…"
"It is so magnificently magnificent for a fruit-finding flight!"

Now, you try it!!!!!!
